Hon. A.A.Desai, C.J.
Hon. Irshad Hussain,J.

Heard Sri V.S. Adhikari, learned counsel for the petitioner and learned A.G.A.

By the instant habeas corpus petition, the petitioner is challenging so called wrongful detention. On notice, learned A.G.A. has pointed out that the petitioner was not detained. However, he was arrested as he was found in possession with stolen property. He is a history sheeter and many cases are pending against him. Moreover, by order of C.J.M. Rudrapur, he has been remanded to jail custody.

In view of this, we dismiss the petition.
